

Funded by Erasmus+ GreenCity

GreenCity's goal is the green transformation of modern city environments by proposing outdoor activities for non-formal education. We support the transformation of unused public spaces into green hubs that promote intercultural dialogue, community building, safe lifestyles, civic inclusion, and the incorporation of disadvantaged people

Our idea for an eco-friendly lifestyle is one which involves everyone and which provides information and resources for a better, more optimal and positive social inclusion for a better natural environment. The project's duration will be 18 months in which we will manufacture a manual, lead workshops and many more activities promoting green-space living.

Our Very Own Manual

We believe that each one of us can help make or maintain a neighborhood green space in which social contacts thrive regardless of social background or physical ability. This is why we will compose and publish a specific manual, detailing how to do just that. In it, you will find information about agriculture in general, how eco-friendly spaces condone a healthy lifestyle, as well as how they assist in integrating disadvantaged groups and minorities. You will also be provided with details on how urban ecology and green-neighborhood spaces help environmental consciousness. In short, you will definitely find some interesting and valuable information which is easily applicable in almost any situation, so make sure you look out for our manual!

Exciting Social Workshops

One of the main goals of the project is to make or maintain an urban garden in each of the partner countries. 5 workshops will be held in each location during which tree planting, agricultural demonstrations, herbal garden making and more similar activities will take place. From a social standpoint, including disadvantaged groups and providing everyone with an equal chance to do something good about the community will bring people together - a very important aspect in light of recent world events. Furthermore, all of the utilized spaces will be maintained in the future after the workshops themselves have come to an end. With professional facilitators, friendly environment, social inclusion and socially beneficial activities, these workshops will be one of the most best aspects of the project.
